QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Why the correct jurisdiction and venue of this case is in Washington, D.C.?
2. Why the Professional License is a Private Property of the citizen?
3. Why in this case applies the doctrine of Exceptio ad non adepleti contractus?
4. Why none of the three Branches of Power of the Government can not violate the Constitution?
5. Why the Constitutional Dispositions are self-executory contractual obligations, of eternal and irrevocable accomplishment?
6. Why the People has a Reserve of Powers that can be activated to restitute the juridical ordainment?
7. Why the Paris Peace Treaty of 1898 guarantees the exercise of professions as a private property?
9. Why a Jury (who are Conscience Judges) can not be revoked by any Court all over the United States?
10. Why the Private Property is so important in the creation of the Constitution?
11. Why did the People reserved this private property rights for itself, and did not delegated it to the three (3) branches of Government to manage it?
12. Why the Social Contract in which is based the Constitution of the United States of América, is the one by John Locke, and not the one by Jean-Jacques Rousseau?

13. How a common citizen, alone, can activate a just and fair Grand Jury investigation, that shall not be impaired by a judge, against the U. S. Attorneys, public servants and up to against federal judges who commit illegal acts against the rights warrantied in Our Supreme Law of the Land?

Plaintiffs and Petitioners Pro Se

That they recover their vision, is my sacred mission; because what I defend with my own life (20 years of struggle), is the state of being in force and Strict Accomplishment of the Constitution of the United States of América: "We, the People of the United States, in order... ... to establish justice..."

I say that to bring a case against the Unites States of América, we got to have the arrogance of Moses, the wisdom of Solomon, the patience of Job, the courage of David and up the Sacrifice of Christ. Therefore, a writing is worth in proportion of the value of the truth it reveals: to restitute the juridical ordainment, according to the exigencies and obligations that establishes and imposes the Constitution of the United States of América. (Our Founding Fathers or Constituents legislated: Preemption Doctrine.)..

for the Redress of Grievances (Constitutional Tort)
under the First Amendment of the United States Constitution in Certiorari
to the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia and to the United States District Court
for the District of Columbia

Petitioners, Dr. José M. Font, M. D., Ophthalmologist, et al., most respectfully prays for a writ of certiorari to be granted to revoke the order of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, entered February 26th, 1999, Appendix A, and to revoke the order of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, entered November 25th, 1998, Appendix B, to declare Certiorari GRANTED, and order DEFAULT, order SUMMARY SENTENCE, order DEFAULT JUDGEMENT, order to REVOKE the Order of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, to REVOKE the Order of the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia; ORDER Civil Jury Trial, Just and Fair to pay damages and prejudices, lost income, lost profit, mental and moral anguish and punitive damages, among other damages; claiming Original Jurisdiction for the Redress of Grievances under the First Amendment of the United States Constitution, to DECLARE the Professional (Bar) Exam an ex post facto law, illegal, unconstitutional, null and void (Catoniana Regula), to ORDER the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico to send the original docket of this case to the Supreme Court of the United States, and to RENDER the Professional License to each one of the Plaintiffs, and to GRANT $500,000,000,000.00 plus 10% interest since filing in damages and prejudices, and order the preemptive seizing of all of the Defendants assets to secure judgement payment.

We file this petition to address the issue of whether the court with venue and jurisdiction to enter the controversy in this case is the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, and not the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico, and also the Catoniana Regula decisions of the United States Supreme Court, decisions that are extra legem, ultra vires, Catoniana Regula (as the Professional Exam), an ex post facto law, illegal, unconstitutional, null and void, because they impaired, denied, restricted and violated the Unalienable Civil Constitutional Rights, (Unalienable right to the Pursuit and exercise of the Profession or Title, that is an absolute private property of the citizens, that the State can not take or seize, and the license of the profession, that arises from the Fundamental

Right to the Enjoyment of Property, as a mandate of irrevocable and eternal accomplishment, because these rights never were delegated to the Government of the United States, because Our Founding Fathers or Constituents (Preemption Doctrine), (legislated the Constitution) immunized, reserved and warrantied through, among other Constitutional dispositions Article VI, First and Second Paragraphs, Supremacy Clause, due to the fact that the tortious acts that constitute the foundations for this case took and are actually taking place in the Capital City of Washington, D.C., that is the domicile of the Defendants.

Also, the proper court to sue the United States of América is the United States District Court for the District of Washington, D.C., because of express constitutional disposition by our Founding Fathers or Constituents (Preemption Doctrine): WE INVOKE: Article I, Sections 9 and 10; Article III, Sections 1 and 2, Article VI, and in the I, IV, V, VII, VIII IX, X, XIII and XIV Amendments. (Ex propio vigore and Ex rigore juris).

Furthermore, the Professional Exam is an ex post facto law, illegal, unconstitutional, null and void, because it impairs and violates the unalienable rights as the Pursuit of Happiness, expressly warrantied in the 1776 Declaration of Independence, and immanently and eternally through the first paragraph of the París Peace Treaty of 1898, that is an international plenipotentiary contract, in virtue of what the United States of América yields, delegates, gets obligated and resigns to legislate over the illegislable federal rights: París Peace treaty of 1898, Article 9, first paragraph,: "And they will have right to exercise their industry, commerce and profession." for the citizens of the territory it accepted, and that goes through the second paragraph, Article VI, Supremacy Clause, eternally valid against the Government of the United States of América. The rights of the citizens are a private property, because our Founding Fathers or Constituents (Preemption Doctrine), never delegated any right, nor any property, among them, the license of the professions. For all of that, the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States imposes the constitutional mandate of irrevocable and eternal accomplishment of the Redress of Grievances. (Rebus sic stantibus). And the contract is law between the parties: Contractus regit actum = The contract reigns and governs over the act.

ORDERS BELOW

The order of the United States District Court for the District of Washington, D.C. is reproduced at Appendix A. The Order of the United States Appeal Court for the District of Columbia is reproduced at Appendix B.

II.

JURISDICTION

The jurisdiction of this Court is involved under the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States of América claiming original jurisdiction for the Redress of Grievances under the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States.* We timely file the Petition for Writ of Certiorari within ninety days of the order of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, Appendix B.

The Constitution of the United States of América is based on the Social Contract conceived by John Locke. Then Our Founding Fathers or Constituents (Preemption Doctrine), never rendered to the newly created government any right, nor any property. That includes the Professional Licenses, because the citizens of the United Stated of América reserved for themselves all of the rights and all of the properties, including the professional licenses, to avoid and to impede their USURPATION from the men and women that where to run the Government. That is what it is all about: to restore the juridical order and ordainment, as it is disposed by the United States Constitution and all of its Amendments.

*1 In the case of Albert Serence v. John Deer, 494 U. S. 516 (110 S. Ct. 1274), it is clearly established that a case can be filed in any Federal Jurisdiction Court. This was established well before by Our Founding Fathers or Constituents (Preemption Doctrine) of the Nation as one of those inherent rights (property) of the citizen reserved when they legislated the United States Constitution (Preemption Doctrine), in Article VI and in the XIV, IX, X (of the People) I and V Amendments. (Implicit warranties of not impairing the obligations of the contracts) (Article I, Sections 9 and 10). Mora Development v. Sandín, 87 D. P. R. 39: "One party can not demand the accomplishment of the opposite obligation if he has not accomplished his own obligation first."

This is clear; it is a matter of Substantial Federal Constitutional Question. It is not necessarily the diversity of citizenship, because all of the Plaintiffs and the principal Defendants, The United States Government and the United States Supreme Court have their domicile in Washington, D. C.. Also, The Commonwealth of Puerto Rico has business in Washington, D.C., because it has minimum and substantial contacts with this Capital City; Hepburn v. Ellzey, 6 U.S. (2CR.) 445: "Is still good Law insofar as it holds that the District of Columbia is not a state, but is overruled insofar as it holds that District citizens may not utilize Federal Diversity Jurisdiction"; Puerto Rico v. Rosaly, 227 U. S. 270: "The Government can be sued without consent." (Applies to the United States of América, also.). Wiscart v. D' Auchy, 3 U.S. (3 DALL) 321: "The appellate powers of this Court are not given by the Judicial Act; they are given by the Constitution of the United States." (For that. reason, our right to appeal Judge Sullivan's judgement is a constitutional mandate of irrevocable and eternal accomplishment; we claim that.). United States v. Guest, 383 U.S. 745, sustained the validity of a Grand Jury accusation based on a criminal conspiracy that violates Section 241, Title 18. That section makes reference prohibiting conspiracies to deny citizens their rights, protected by the Constitution of the United States of América.

Pursuant to a class action, Plaintiffs have domicile at: The Lansburgh Apartments, 8th. St. N.W. Apt. 938 Washington, D.C., 20004. (Venue). The submittance of this case is in the correct jurisdiction of Washington, D.C., (District of Columbia), because it is also the seat (setting) and domicile of the principal Defendants, The United States Supreme Court, because the United States Supreme Court deprived, impaired (prohibition that is a constitutional and irrevocable mandate of eternal and absolute accomplishment), and violated, (through the Catoniana regula cases of Ex Parte Lockwood and Bradwell v. Illinois and other 850 cases,) because they deny, restrict, impair and violate the Supreme Law of the Land), the Civil Constitutional Unalienable Rights, warrantied through Article VI, Supremacy Clause, in the Supreme Law of the Land, (United Stated Constitution and its Amendments), the supreme and irrevocable obligation of the Contract, that has absolute, strict and eternal accomplishment.

On January 13th , 1999, under the Civil Procedure Terms, Plaintiffs submitted the APPEAL of this case, Dr. José M. Font, M.D., Ophthalmologist, et. al., v. United States of América, et. al.. We quote from the book CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA: ANALYSIS AND INTERPRETATION 1992. (Cases decided by the Supreme Court of the Unites States; Prepared by the Congressional Research Service, Library of Congress.): "Marbury v. Madison, 1 Cr. (5 U.S.) 137, 173- 180 (1803), is the leading case of all ages, because it establishes that the citizen has an entitlement over his or her property

(Professional License), that is not susceptible of a TAKING by the State's apparatus." It explains and settles that this is the correct jurisdiction. It is evidence in this case: Fletcher v. Peck: 10 U.S. (6Cr.) 87: "The Government can not violate its own contracts."

For these reasons, among others, The United States District Court for the District of Washington, D.C., (Hon. Judge Emmett G. Sullivan), and the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Washington, D.C., did not complied with their ministerial duties, went against their oath, (Stipulatio), impaired and violated their Supreme Obligations: ("The Supreme Court will adopt, for the Courts, Rules of Evidence, Civil and Criminal Procedure that not impair, amplify or modify the substantive rights of the parties." (Contractual obligations.)). They have to strictly comply with the Civil Constitutional Unalienable Rights (they are self executory: they act ex propio vigore and ex rigors juris) and are inviolable; also is the Civil Constitutional Inalienable Right to the Exercise of our Professions: Pursuit: to ordain the rendering of our professional licenses, that emanate from the fundamental Right to the Enjoyment of Property, because the Professional Titles are a private property of the Plaintiffs, that emanate from Article VI, Supremacy Clause. (V Amendment).

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

A. Nature of the Case

On July 7th ,1998, Plaintiffs filed, in the United States District Court for the District of Washington, D. C., an Urgent Possessory, Provisional, Transitory and Permanent Injunction Petition against the United States of América and other Defendants, asking the rendition of their Professional Licenses and the granting of $500,000,000,000.00 (five hundred billion dollars) (half a trillion dollars), plus 10% interest since filing, in damages, lost income and profit, mental anguish, moral damages, punitive damages, among others, violation of Unalienable Civil Constitutional Rights and any other damages that Plaintiffs have suffered because of the tortious acts or omissions by the Defendants.

B. Statement of Court Proceedings

A CERTIORARI claiming Primary Jurisdiction for the Redress of Grievances under the First Amendment of the United States Constitution, is the procedure of order for this Honorable Court, because the United States District Court for the District of Washington, D.C., the Hon, Emmett G. Sullivan, presiding, the order of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, and the Catoniana Regula decisions of the United States Supreme Court (in the Catoniana Regula cases of Ex Parte Lockwood and Bradwell v. Illinois and other 850 cases, because they deny, restrict, impair and violate the Supreme Law of the Land), failed in applying the pertinent extent of the Law to the present case.

The grounds for this CERTIORARI claiming Primary Jurisdiction for the Redress of Grievances under the First Amendment of the United States Constitution, arises from the order of the Hon Emmett G. Sullivan,

District of Washington, D.C., transferring this case to the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico, and the order of the United States Appeal Court for the District of Columbia (they cited the case Starnes v. McGuire, 512 F2d. 918, which does not apply to this controversy. Plaintiffs appealed. We did not asked for a Mandamus. Therefore, this case does not applicable. It is unconstitutional, illegal, null and void), and neither are the Catoniana Regula decisions of the United States Supreme Court (in the cases of Ex Parte Lockwood and Bradwell v. Illinois and other 850 cases, because they deny, restrict, impair and violate the Supreme Law of the Land), failed in applying the pertinent extent of the Law to the present case, and are against the Law, illegal, unconstitutional, null and void, because both violated the Substantive Due Process of Law guaranteed in the VII Amendment of the United States Constitution as a warranty and protection of the Check and Balances System against the USURPATION of the Unalienable Civil Constitutional Rights, as is the property of the citizens, warrantied in the United States Constitution . That Amendment guarantees a just and fair civil jury trial. We appeal the Transfer Order based on jurisdiction. It is the right of the Plaintiffs to select the forum to file the case. See Albert Serence v. John Deer, supra. The assigned forum will be partialized and biased against the Plaintiffs, what will deny us a just and fair judgement, notwhitstanding the fact that the appropriate jurisdiction and venue for this case lies in Washington, D.C., because the Defendants have minimum and substantial contacts with the city of Washington, D.C.. The tortious acts that are the basis for this civil action took and are still taking place in the Capital City of Washington, D.C. Those are the Catoniana Regula decisions of the United States Supreme Court (in the cases of Ex Parte Lockwood and Bradwell v. Illinois and other 850 cases.)

Since our first appearance in Court, we gave proof that in all professions all over the United States and its territories and possessions, the Professional Exam is an ex post facto law: unconstitutional, illegal, null and void, because it violates and impairs the mandatory obligations of the Contract that is the Constitution of the United States and its Amendments, and the Paris Peace Treaty of 1898, which are The Supreme Law of the Land, a supreme and irrevocable mandate of absolute and eternal accomplishment as our Founding Fathers or Constituents legislated the Constitution . (Preemption Doctrine).

The order of the Hon. Emmett G. Sullivan entered the file on November 25th, 1998, and, by a mistake of the clerks, employees or servants of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, was sent to an incorrect address, where I was not living since a long time ago. Dr. José M. Font notified, to the Honorable Court, since October 15th, 1998, and on subsequent motions, the new address of 4524 N. W. Alton Place, Washington, D.C., and later, on November 16th, 1998, the actual address of 420 7th St., N. W., The Lansburgh, Apt. 419 Washington, D.C. 20004, but, the Courts' clerks, employees or servants wrongly sent the Order to the old address where I was not living. For that reason, I was never officially notified of that order, as I alleged in the Reconsideration to the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, and also to the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, that was declared "DENIED", what is against the Law, because it impairs and violates the Right to the Constitutional Due Process of Law, and to a

They disposed it in the American Social Contract. The Constitution acts Ex Propio Vigore and Ex Rigors Juris; then, the Supreme Law of the Land is a Self-Executory one.

The three branches of Government, the three powers of the Federal, State and Territorial Government (Executive, Legislative and Judiciary Branches), acted extra legem and ultra vires (Catoniana Regula), and they made an illegal and unconstitutional TAKING over our professional licenses, that are an inherent constitutional right, private property of the Plaintiffs, not delegated to the Government of the United States or to the States or Territories. Ius possidendi: the right to possess; the legal consequence of being the owner.

The Defendants did it so through and vested in the Catoniana Regula decisions made by the United States Supreme Court in the cases Bradwell v. Illinois and Ex parte Lockwood, and, also, through another 850 U.S. Supreme Court decisions that, the same as those cases are an ex post facto law: unconstitutional, illegal, null and void, because they validate the TAKING that is the Professional Exam, and they, of course, impair and violate the Civil Constitutional Unalienable and Immunized rights guaranteed and reserved (in an explicit and implicit way) in, among others, Article VI of the United States Constitution, its Amendments and the 1898 París Peace Treaty, in an open, belingerant, flagrant violation of the Substantial Constitutional Due Process of Law: The Professional License, among other citizens property rights, is a sacred one, as the Supreme Court of the United States has established it: Wilkinson v. New York; 555 N.Y. 2d. 579: "The Sovereign Immunity can not be invoked to avoid the payment of damages under the subterfuge of financial ruin of the state."

Let us remind that they made the aforementioned catoniana regula and extra legem and ultra vires United States Supreme Court decisions from this Capital City; Washington, D.C.: the Seat of the United States Government, as our Founding Fathers or Constituents decided it, (Preemption Doctrine), and for the present case, the domicile of the Defendants and the Plaintiffs. Our Founding Fathers or Constituents (Preemption Doctrine) legislated, immanently in the Constitution, the right for the United States citizens, to file this case in any jurisdiction, including, most specially, in Washington, D.C.. This is the seat and venue of the United States, in accordance with the United States Constitution, Article I, Sections 9 and 10, Article III, Sections 1 and 2, Article VI and the I, IV, V, VI, VII, VIII, IX, X, XIII and XIV Amendments. We are suing in the Defendants domicile. This is, according to the Federal Civil Procedure Rules, the Court with jurisdiction and venue to view this case is the United States District Court for the District of Washington, D.C. Also a transferral of this case to the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico, will be an incorrect one: NO FAIR TRIAL IS POSSIBLE, AND WILL NEVER, EVER, BE POSSIBLE FOR THIS CASE TO BE RULED PROPERLY IN PUERTO RICO.

C. Facts

The foundation for the claim in this case, is the following: all of the Plaintiffs are citizens of the United States of América. Their education was not given by the educative institutions to the Plaintiffs for free. Plaintiffs had to pay for their tuition, in order to receive their professional knowledge and education.

Then, after the completion and fulfillment of all of the requirements pursuant to the chosen career, the educative institutions granted Plaintiffs their professional titles, through diplomas, certificates or commendations crediting their professional status. Those titles are untransferable.

The aforementioned titles are, then, a private property of the Plaintiffs, and moreover, a private property of the most personal and untransferable nature, because of both: the money invested in tuition payments and the fact that the professional titles of the Plaintiffs, due to their untransferableness, cannot be alienated in any way. Because of all that,

Plaintiffs developed an entitlement over the private property that are their professional titles, what makes them, by definition, unsusceptible of a taking of any kind, not even to one done by the State itself.

Nevertheless, those professional titles were then, the object of a taking by the state's apparatus, done by the requirement of a previous submission to, and approval of the Professional Exam by the Plaintiffs, in order to be allowed to practice their professions.

That requirement precluded, obstructed, obliterated and impaired the exercise and practice of the Plaintiffs professions, causing them damages of every kind, mental and moral anguish and suffering. The professional titles are worthless without the licenses to practice the professions. Then, the professional has an entitlement over the professional license, but the State has made a taking over it.

The taking done by the state over the professional license is an usurpation of Plaintiff's property rights, worsened by the fact that it impedes thy duly use, keeping it for the state itself, and without proving a knowledgeable, cognizable and rational public use for it, and also failing in granting a just compensation for the taking done, against the V Amendment. See First English Evangelical Lutheran Church v. Los Angeles County, supra, among other cases.

The State's apparatus administers the Professional Exams vested in Rules, Laws and Decrees that are, simultaneously, sustained by the decisions of the United States Supreme Court in the cases of Ex parte Lockwood and Bradwell v. Illinois and other 850 similar cases. The states manipulates the United States Supreme Court interpretation of those cases to govern and control the admission to the professions through initiating and sustaining the process of administration of the Professional Exams.

However, in the light of the actual constitutional jurisprudence, the adoption by the State of that interpretation of those cases, is plainly unconstitutional, because it goes, among others, against the dispositions of the V Amendment of the .Constitution of the United States: Holden v. Hardy, 169 U.S. 366: "The property or property rights of a person cannot be taken to benefit another person or to benefit the State."

Then, every time that the state's apparatus solicits a Professional Exam, puts it as a requisite to practice a profession or enforces it, they have repeatedly impaired and violated the rights of the Plaintiffs, contained in the Constitution of the Unites States of América, and commits an usurpation of the property right over the Plaintiff's professional licenses.

Also, the constitutional rights violations continue with the impairing of the XIV Amendment rights of the Plaintiffs, making the Professional Exams an unconstitutional ex post facto law. (Catoniana Regula). There is no escape: Obey Article VI and IX Amendment of the U. S. Constitution.

The Bill of Rights is really a Bill of Constitutional Prohibitions in our Constitutional Contract against the three "powers": Executive, Legislative and Judicial of the Federal, State and Territorial Government, to warranty the Inalienable Rights, that are illegislable and inviolable, because these rights are inherent to the Human Being. Then, they are not born, they are not created or granted, but they are acknowledged, because they existed long before the creation of the Constitution and the governments, as been the Inalienable Right to the Exercise of the Profession, the License to Excersice the Profession, because it is a private property of the citizen from which emanates the Right to Work, that is the source of the creation of wealth and happiness, that never were delegated to the Government in the Supreme Law of the Nation.

V.

REASONS FOR GRANTING THE WRIT

A. Jurisdiction

We filed this civil action in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia because this Capital City is the seat, residence and official place of business of the leading Defendants, that were the ones who originated the impairing and violations of the Constitutional dispositions, specially the Unalienable Fundamental Civil Constitutional illegislable Rights of the Plaintiffs, whom are citizens of the United States.

Those rights are immanently guaranteed, immunized and reserved[1]

1. The Bill of Rights was, since its beginnings, stipulations between Kings and their subjects (administrators); a --compendium of powers, a reserve of rights not surrendered to the Prince; A republican way of Government, with three power branches: executive, legislative and judicial. So the People is a Supreme and Immune Sovereign, with its inherent, inalienable rights. That is why Alexander Hamilton says that in its righteousness, the People never surrendered anything. Then, no Amendment on the Constitution lessened any citizen's right, and, in the same way, did not granted any more power to the Government. The

against the three branches of Governmental Power (The United States Supreme Court included), through Article VI, Supremacy Clause of the Constitution of the United States by irrevocable mandate of absolute and eternal accomplishment from Our Founding Fathers or Constituents.(Preemption Doctrine).

Also, Our Founding Fathers or Constituents established the authorization or permit to sue the three branches of the Government of the United States of América in their own seat, the Capital City of Washington, D.C.. That privilege arises from the Unites States Constitution itself, in Article I Section 8, paragraph 17, Article I, sections 9 and 10, Article III, Sections 1 and 2 article VI, and I, IV, V, VII, VIII IX, X, XIII and XIV Amendments, and acts ex propio vigore, and, of course, ex rigore juris.

Then, it is unacceptable and wrong to pretend to view this case in other court than the United States District Court for the District of Columbia. The United Stated Constitution itself provided for such a case to

United States Constitution has not changed on anything, in any way, since its origins. Each citizen retains its rights and properties, including the Professional License. In other words, the True Law and the Right Reason, congruent with Nature itself, general for all, constant, perdurable, is the one that does not undermines the rights of the citizens. In fact, our society is a Natural Aristocratic Crown for each citizen, through consent, for all human begins in the geographic constitutional frame of the United States of América, and not a rethoric of favoritism and protectorate, to favor the interest of the managers of the moment, that are managing in an unconstitutional and illegal way: Article III, U. S. Constitution: "They will remain in Office until they observe (accomplish and not undermine the inalienable rights) good conduct." An argument is worth only in proportion of the truth and values it reveals. Lost conduct and lost uniform: -no uniform, no order-, because it impairs and violates the Contract, Supreme Law of the Land: The Constitution of the United States of América.

be tried in the said Court. Then, an order on the contrary will violate the Preemption Doctrine, in this case with the Occupied Field situation constituted by the action of the United States Constitution itself.

B. The Constitutional Right to a Just and Fair Civil Jury Trial

The VII Amendment of the Constitution of the United States gives a warranty of a fair and just civil jury trial. Nevertheless, due to the nature and facts surrounding this case, the provisions of the VII Amendment will be impaired if this case is tried in the Unites States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico, because, among many other things, two (2) justices of the aforementioned court figure as Defendants.

This is a conflict of interest that impedes and precludes the clean exercise of all what implies the Constitutional Right to a just and fair Civil Jury Trial, because those and the remaining Justices of the said court, are fellow people of the cloth, and they will be impeded to lawfully execute their ministerial duty.

If this case is tried in the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico, what will be illegal, unconstitutional, null and void, Plaintiffs will be abandoned, deserted, helpless, unprotected and unprovided of their Constitutional right to a just and fair civil jury trial.

Furthermore, the denial of a just and fair civil jury trial will be a violation of the VII and XIV Amendments, because a statute inferior to the United States Constitution, be it a Procedural Rule, or a decision or ruling from an inferior court, will be lessening the provisions, effect and extent of the Constitution itself.

C. The Constitutional Contract Question

The Constitution of the United States of América imposes to all employees or servants of the three branches (Executive, Legislative and Judicial) of the Government (Federal, State and Territorial), the duty of strict compliance with the Constitution. Then, their irrevocable constitutional mandate is the Exceptio non adempleti contractus, that means that one party, (the Government), can not demand the accomplishment of the contrary obligation if they do not accomplish their own obligations first.[2] See Mora Development v. Sandín, 87 D.P.R. 39.

The warranty of the exercise of the State's police power, without violating the Constitution is that the State has the obligation of rendering the professional license (private property) and then the professional will accomplish a one full year internship under the direct supervision of State appointed officers. This will evidentiate the knowledge required for the exercise of the profession.

2. The three branches of the Government, Federal, State and Territorial, have the obligation (Ministerial Duty), of rendering the licenses of the professions, that are a private property of the citizen, The State or the managers of the three branches of the Government can not impair the Constitutional dispositions that are mandatory and irrevocable obligations, that warranties, in an explicit and implicit way the Unalienable Civil Constitutional Rights of the Citizens of the United States, as it is established and imposed by the Substantive Constitutional Due Process of Law in the Contract or Supreme Law of the Nation, called The Constitution of The United States of América and its Amendments; (Article I, Sections 1 and 2; Article VI, First and Second Paragraph, Supremacy Clause; and the I, IV, V, VII, VIII, IX, X, XIII and XIV

We have to restore the authentic constitutional ordainment to simultaneously restore, the Constitutional warranties of the People. All of these have been juridically recognized repeatedly: Erie v. Tompkins, 304 U.S. 64: "All majority decisions from a state's supreme court are law in the federal courts of that state; Municipio Autónomo de Ponce v. Rosselló, 94 J.T.S.; "The contract equals a law." Sánchez v. López, 118 D.P.R. 781: "When one or more persons consciously, voluntarily and knowingly causes damages to an affected person, all of them are responsible in solidarity for the damages caused." General Office v. Cappen, 115 D.P.R.: "An action in damages and prejudices is allowed against third parties that intentionally interfere with the contractual obligations of third parties." 31 L.P.R.A. 3024 (Código Civil de Puerto Rico), (Civil Code of Puerto Rico): "The debtor that acts with malice will respond for all the damages; the foreseen and the unforeseen that will arise from a lack of accomplishment or intentional unaccomplishment". Most respectfully, and in relation to previous, inferior courts orders, we quote: Tyler v. Judges of the Court, 179 U.S. 405: "Judges cannot violate contracts."

Amendments.) It was never delegated to none of the branches of the Governments any right, nor any property, including the licenses of the professions, because the police power of the Government is obliged, limited and subordinated by Constitutional mandate and order, of irrevocable, strict and eternal accomplishment, disposed by Our Founding Fathers or Constituents whom legislated the Constitution (Preemption Doctrine), and into the Constitutional prohibition, among others, to the three branches of Government of not impairing or violating (to deny or to restrict), OF NOT TAKING THE PRIVATE PROPERTY OF THE CITIZENS, that was and is the reason for the creation of the

CONCLUSION

As the Supreme Court of the United States of América has decided, nothing, neither a statute, nor a court decision or ruling, can go over the United States Constitution: Scheuer v. Rhodes, 94 S.Ct. 1683: "There is no escape from the superior authority of the Federal Constitution." See also Perry v. Sindermann, 408 U.S. 593.

Education and work are an essential part of the community of society. That is what makes the greatness of civilization that we are living in and enjoying. The more citizens that receive the benefit of education and work, the nearest we are to comprehend the exercise of Democracy and the understanding of democratic liberty. These expressions, aim to recognize how these compendiums of Human Rights constitute all together a reality; that they are interdependent.

There is a basic interdependence between Law and the Liberty of Man; between Law and the Liberty of Education; between Law and the Liberty of the exercise of the Profession; between Law and the Liberty to the Professional License; between Law and the Liberty to Work; between Law and the Liberty to Think, to Expression and Free Assembly. All those rights and liberties construct the matrix into what evolves the maximum plenitude of the personality of Man, into what is achieved that essential Dignity of the Human Being that is the basis and the Cornerstone of our Democracy. Onto her, lives its profound strength and constitutional and legal vitality. Before any other thing, our Democracy is a Social Contract , a legal contract, but, very specially a moral contract.[3]

This 20 year struggle, makes sense, because it is aimed to restitute the American Juridical Constitutional Ordainment, according to the exigencies and obligations that establishes and imposes the Constitution of the United States of América, that has been a beacon of light, that has enlightened the ascendent way, not only of Our People and Our Nation, but of all Humanity.

From here will emerge, then, through your consciences and your votes, the decision to reestablish and reincorporate Justice in our Courts, to make a more just society, in addition to a more human one, that responds better to the Unalienable Civil Constitutional Rights that the People reserved for itself, that were immunized and warrantied on its Contract or Supreme Law of the Nation: The Constitution of the United States of América.

It is our citizen's duty to put our Civil Constitutional Unalienable and Illegislable Rights to work. United States v. Lee, 106 U. S. 196: "No man is above the Law."

Late Justice is no Justice at all. Under the VII Amendment of the Constitution of the United States of América, the Conscience Judges-The People is the First and Only Power- are the true (Kings) Supreme Court of the People of the United States of América, that has, as an irrevocable mandate, to restitute the Inalienable Rights and to revoke the Supreme Court of the Republican (duties) Administrative Way of Government when it impairs restricts, denies and violates the Unalienable Rights of the Citizens of the United States of América - KING (Proscripted and prohibited by the United States Constitution - Contract)

Pacta sunt servanda: - is the most solemn verbal contract,(government officers) and I quote: "I do solemnly swear to defend the Constitution of the United States of América and the Federal Laws."; the one who pacts, is obliged to faithfully accomplish his Constitutional obligation, sustaining on his subordination to unequivocally accomplish with the sacred Unalienable and Illegislable Civil Constitutional Rights of the United States Citizens, among what figure the Inalienable Civil Constitutional Rights, immunized, reserved and warrantied since the Declaration of Independence of July 4th, 1776, that is a Contract and a Law (engagement) that gave basis and origin to the Government of the United States, that goes through Article VI, First Paragraph, (and the Paris Peace Treaty of 1898, Article 9, and I quote: "and they will have right to practice their industry, their commerce AND THEIR PROFESSION",) that goes through the Second Paragraph of Article VI of the Supremacy Clause that are the Pursuit or exercise of the Profession or Office (work: that is the creator of acquisitive power, and the fountain of wealth) that arises from the right of the owner of the Title, that is an absolute private property of the citizen, of what is an inherent and immanent part the Private Property Right of the Professional License of each citizen, because it arises from the Fundamental right of the Enjoyment of Private Property, from which arises the Constitutional Rights, among others, the Right to Work, Prosperity or Progress, Wellbeingness, Privacy and Personal and Familiar Happiness, immunized, reserved and warrantied in the Unilateral People's Contract for the citizens. (Jus Possidendi - is the right to poses - the legal consequence of being the owner.) Therefore, and because the Exceptio non adempleti contractus is juridically constitutional, one part (three branches of Government: Federal, State and Territorial), can not (because of Constitutional Mandate of Eternal and Irrevocable Accomplishment), demand the accomplishment of the contrary obligation (to the United States Citizens), if the Governments have not accomplished (have impaired and violated the contract), with their ministerial duty (law between the parties) of rendering the license to the citizens.

Citizens are, either rich, middle-class, poor or indigent. Most of us, Plaintiffs, are low, middle-class citizens, whom can not resist the continuous financial wear out of the exigencies of last minute details in the preparation and repeated reproduction of this document. Justice will be short-changed if we have to pay for another unaffordable copy of this document.

3.When judges impair or violate (extra legem) the Social Contract, they automatically divest themselves of their official investiture. This is so, because the Constitution of the United States is self-immune and acts self executory: Ex propio vigore and ex rigore juris. This is to avoid that any law or order may impair or violate the Supreme Law of the Land. Consequently, when judges lose their uniform or investiture, they have no authority to issue orders, and any order issued is considered illegal, null and void, and, thus, unconstitutional. See Frank Amedure, et al, v. Warner Brothers, et al, a recent case that creates a ruling in consonance with the Constitutional VII Amendment disposition, as disposed by Our Founding Fathers or Constituents. ORDER

Plaintiff Jose M. Font, pro se, filed a complaint July 8, 1998, alleging that he and an unspecified number of mostly unidentified putative plaintiffs have suffered due process deprivations as a result of licensure requirements of the Puerto Rico Board of Medical Examiners. Plaintiff seeks injunctive relief and damages of 500 billion dollars, plus interest. Defendant the United States of America has moved to dismiss. Upon consideration of defendant's motion to dismiss, plaintiff's's opposition, and the reply thereto, defendants motion is GRANTED IN PART, and this case is hereby transferred to the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico.28 U. S. C. 1406(a) provides that (t)he district court of the district in which is filed a case laying venue in the wrong division or district shall dismiss, or if it be in the best interest of justice, transfer such case to any district or division in which it could have been brought.

As plaintiff advanced a constitutional claim, subject matter jurisdiction id not premised upon diversity of citizenship. See 28 U.S.C. S 1391(b). Whether venue properly lies in the District of Columbia depends upon whether this is the "Judicial district in where any defendant resides, if all the defendants reside in the same state" or the "judicial district in which a substantial part of the events or omissions given rise to the claim occurred. . . See id. Because the defendants reside both in Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia, and because all of the events giving rise to plaintiffs's claim occurred there, venue does not lie in the District of Columbia. See 28 U. S. C. S 1391 (b) (2). The licensure requirements to which plaintiff objects were promulgated and are enforced in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Furthermore, these requirements only apply to persons such as himself who seek to obtain licenses to practice their professions in Puerto Rico.

Plaintiff's claim that the District Court for the District of Puerto Rico does not have jurisdiction to entertain constitutional claims is erroneous. See Plt's motion Objecting to All Defendants Motion to Dismiss at 6. The District Court of Puerto Rico has the same jurisdiction as any other District Court of the United States and may hear constitutional claims. See Miranda v. United States, 255 F 2d. 9, 11-15 (Ist Cir. 1958); Mitsui & Co, Inc. V. Puerto Rico Water Resources Authority, 558 F. Supp. 116, 177 & n.1 (D. Puerto Rico 1983) (proving background on the District of Puerto Rico). Furthermore as is the case with other District Court judges, Puerto Rico District Court Judges have life tenure see 28 U.S.C. S. 135. Accordingly, in the sound discretion of this court, and in the interests of justice, see Naartex Consulting Corp. v. Watt 722 F.2d. 779, 789 (D.C. Cir. 1983), this case is hereby transferred to the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
